Dear Mr. Allen:

You may not remember me, but we met a couple of years ago at a dinner party. I told you I was thinking of becoming a professional musician, and you said "good luck". Since that time I have been practicing and practicing, because I want to become a really good musician. I had to quit my job, and unfortunately my wife also left me, but the upside is that I have more time to work at my craft.

I am now very good at the tin whistle, pan pipes and bongos, and I was wondering if you would be my manager. I would like, if possible to tour with Bryan Adams. I know I probably can't actually be in his band because already has a person doing what I do, but I think I would be a really good opening act. Besides playing music, I can also dance and tell funny stories.

I look forward to hearing from you. My bags are packed and I'm ready to move to the big city (Vancouver).

Sincerely yours,

Garth Johnson

P.S. If you send me an autographed picture, I'll send you one of mine.
