Dear Ms. Barry:

I've had it up to here (indicates a very high level) with that fucking poetry poodle that has been plaguing your comic strip for the past few ice ages. It's super unfunny and amazingly annoying. Please get rid of it immediately. And while you're at it, take some goddamned drawing lessons... jeesh. You don't have the same excuse for crappy art that Callahan has.

Wise Up,

Garth Johnson

P.S. Could you please send me an autographed picture? And please... make it legible.
