Dear Mu'ammār al-Quadhafī:

You sir, are, and have always been, an inspiration to me. Your battle against Imperialism and the oppressive powers that be, is a heroic one in my books. Unfortunately, the Western media never prints the truth about you and your cause. Nevertheless, I believe that you will go down in history as one of the great leaders of the 20th and 21st Centuries.

Victoria, where I live, is long overdue for a revolution of its own. I was wondering if you have any information that would be helpful in overthrowing our government and replacing it with one that is just and representative. Do we really have to take over the radio stations first? What did you do first when your revolution started? I am not a member of the army or police, will this be a problem? I don't want there to be a bloodbath, do you feel it is wise to merely exile counter-revolutionaries, or do they really have to be executed as an example to others? As you can see, I have a lot to learn, and am gravely in need of help from an experienced person.

Respectfully yours,

Garth Johnson

P.S. Could you send me an autographed picture for inspiration?
