Dear Ms. Shpeeris:

So, what the hell's been going on here anyway? Did you suffer some kind of head injury in 1989? Because you sure as shit haven't made a half-decent film since then. The first two Decline of Western Civilization's were great. Suburbia was a fine movie, but fucking hell... The Beverly Hillbillies!!! Jesus! Nothing pisses me off more than seeing something good turn into something retarded. It's a goddamned slap in the face. It's just like seeing the song "The Revolution Will Not Be Televised" used in a TV commercial. I've had just about enough ... everything I once thought was cool or interesting or even important is now constantly being thrown back in my face. Tell you what... if you really want a good premise for what would be an amazing movie, contact my roommate Tolan McNeil and get him to tell you about the time his band toured across Canada with the Dayglo Abortions and Bunchoffuckinggoofs... now that's the real shit.

Sincerely,

Garth Johnson

P.S. Could you send me one of your, no doubt photocopied, autograph pictures?
