Dear Ms. Thompson:

I want to let you know that I am your newest fan. I didn't used to like the kind of movies where you had a lot of talking and stuff in them. They seemed kind of girly to me. My new partner, Carolyn, has changed all that. She talked me into seeing a couple of your movies recently and they were real good. I really liked the Winter Guest. It really got me thinking about my mother and stuff. And even that Shakespeare film you were in was okay. I had always heard that Shakespeare' s movies were really boring, and they spoke English instead of American in them. Although you guys do speak pretty funny, I didn't have a hard time following what was going on. From now on, I will watch all the movies you are in. One of my former buddies said your movies were gay and that you were ugly, so I kicked his ass. I hope this was okay.

Sincerely,

Garth Johnson

P.S. Could you please send me an autographed picture?
